MEETING SHOWED LACK OF INTEREST

Indiana Harbor Reformers Effect an Organization Last Night.

A further lack of interest in Attorney W. J. Murray's campaign to rid Indiana Harbor of all dives, gambling joints and blind pigs was last night manifested when only a handful of citizens showed at the meeting in the Civic club rooms to hear the scheduled reports of the committees which were appointed two weeks ago. In addition to Attorney Murray there were only two other members of the committees present and it developed upon Murray's report for each of the three committees. About twenty-five were present, seven or eight of whom were negroes.

The only action of the entire meeting was taken in the last few minutes when it was decided "to organize all present and all others who care to join into a club to rid the city of all crime, secure evidence and file charges before the Safety Board." The club will be known as the Indiana Harbor Clean-Up club and is to remain in existence, according to Attorney Murray.

A. J. Burns, the electrical contractor, was selected as chairman of the organization after W. E. Jewell had refused to act in that capacity. Mr. Jewell first explained that he did not have time and then decided that the chairman of such an organization should be one who was not a mill man since the duties would require that the chairman be able to observe conditions daily. Shelley Howard, a negro, was elected vice chairman, and A. C. Burgin, secretary-manager of the Civic club, was chosen as secretary.

In reporting for the committee, which was appointed to meet with the mayor and Board of Safety, Attorney Murray explained that little satisfaction had been received by the committee, but that the mayor, chief of police and Board of Safety had promised that the city would continue to be as quiet as it is at present. Most of the joints, Attorney Murray reported, had closed after the first meeting two weeks ago, but insisted that they would open again as soon as the citizens laid down on the job. For this reason he urged that a permanent organization be formed.

Since the chairman of the two committees were not present, Attorney Murray also reported for them and stated that the finance committee now has almost enough money pledged to do anything that may be necessary and that the committee appointed to secure names has listed more than forty places which have been operating contrary to law.

A clean city is not the chief thing to desire, according to Attorney Murray, who stated that he would rather make it hot for some of the city officials. "If I had my choice of closing every dive, gambling joint and blind pig in the city or of getting the heads of some of those in authority, I should prefer to get the heads of those officials," he stated.

W. E. Jewell, president of the Indiana Harbor Civic club, who has presided at all of the meetings was very particular last evening to impress that the clean-up organization "is not a Civic Club proposition," but stated that it was entirely under the auspices of citizens of the city and independent of the club.

Sen. Elsner There With Horseplay

Democrats at Legislative Session Busy Acting as Obstructionists.

(TIMES BUREAU AT STATE CAPITAL, INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 15.—Out of the confusion of the special session of the General Assembly one thing looms as a certainty and that is the Republican majority is working in complete harmony and is making steady strides towards the accomplishment of real constructive measures with regard to the important measures.

As the session progresses it is demonstrated that there are only three bills before the assembly in which there is a great deal of interest either on the part of the legislators or the public in general. These three outstanding issues are the state world war memorial project; the amendments to the tax law and the plan to purchase a state mine and coal cars.

Desperate efforts are being made by the hand full of democrats in the assembly to make political capital out of these measures. Every possible play is being made by these members in the hopes of placing the majority in an ugly position and thereby affecting the votes in November. But the political intent of the minority members is so manifest that they are in fact making jokes out of themselves.

It had been predicted by political leaders in both parties that the Democratic members would play good politics and would not attempt horseplay.

There Are No "Ifs" About It!

We know that Firestone Motor-cycle Tires will deliver more miles per dollar. If we weren't sure of it we wouldn't be selling Firestones—we'd choose some other make.

But we know that the extra rubber, the extra fabric and the extra angles against skid that are built into every Firestone Motor-cycle Tire will deliver service that satisfies.

The proofs are on file; read the list of racing victories for this year; the records in every line of service. They will lead you to say: "Firestone for mine."

While it is undoubtedly to their advantage to play the game squarely and not attempt to muddy the waters, still they have failed to get on the right track.

All the moves made by Senator Elsner, Democratic floor leader in the senate, to make his points for the minority have fallen flat. On the slightest pretext he jumps to his feet to raise some quibbling question. His continued horseplay is becoming so monotonous that he can not command the respect or the considerate attention of the senate. In other words he is not taken seriously, apparently not even by his fellow Democrats.

Senator Charles A. Hagerity of South Bend, is very much present on the floor at all times, and as usual indulging in his beautiful oratory, and also as usual getting no place and not making any points of any real benefit to the public. Senator Joseph Cravens, the veteran in the assembly from Jefferson county, is given some attention because of his years of service in the legislature, but he is unable to accomplish anything for his party, or to embarrass the majority seriously because of the feeble support that is given him by his brother Democrats.

CHECK-RAISER NOW IN TOILS

The neat for crooks, hold-up men, burglars and other criminals which the Gary police have spread over the city in the recent crime wave yielded a clever checker raiser.

He gives his name as Mike Czucko, 1541 Maryland street, and with the aid of the Gary authorities was taken into custody by private detectives from the Burns Detective agency in Chicago. They have been working on the case for nearly a month.

Czucko, who is 40 years old, married, and three children, is charged with having forged and mutilated more than $600 worth of Illinois Steel company pay checks. He was apprehended after he paid a fruit store owner $12 for a check of the same amount which he intended to alter the amount and raise the check.

With white ink, he would blot out the amount of the check, let it dry and with an ordinary rubber stamp he would stamp any amount on the check that he wished, the check then presenting a "boni-fide" appearance. He never raised the checks to an amount exceeding $100, it is said.

LAKE CO. LEGISLATOR IS A BUSY MAN

Representative Otto Fifield of Lake county, has not been idle since the special session of the legislature convened. On the opening day he introduced amendments to the county unit road bill which will make it necessary to have 250 signers to a petition for construction of a road. He would have twenty-five names from each of a majority of the townships, and in case it is a county line road he wants ten signers each from a majority of the townships in the counties affected.

Tuesday, Mr. Fifield introduced a bill clarifying the duties of township trustees in regard to the dirt roads and to their methods of raising money for the upkeep of the dirt roads.

He has decided not to place before the legislature the amendments to the tax law which he had under consideration when he went to Indianapolis. He has found that there is considerable opposition to the various changes suggested and does not believe it would be advisable to attempt to frame his ideas in a bill at present.

WRECKING OF AIR MATERIALS BEGINS

Exclusive Cable to The I. N. S. and the London Daily Express

GENEVA, July 15.—Destruction of German military air materials in accordance with the terms of the treaty of Versailles has begun, according to advices received today from Friedrichshaven. The work is being carried out under supervision of allied army officers at Friedrichshaven, where there are balloon and airplane factories, and elsewhere in Germany.

THIRD PARTY TORN WITH DISSENSION

manded, through his son, that his name be withdrawn from the balloting. The Labor party, a program declared for nationalization of resources, democratization of industry and other far-reaching economic reforms, was too radical for the Wisconsin senator.

TWO IN MAIN FIGHT.—This left the main fight between Christensen and Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port of New York. On the first ballot Malone led with 1663 votes, as against 1211 for Christensen. Eugene V. Debs, the So-Ford was not present. Hayes had previously had his name withdrawn but the convention would not hear of it. HAYES WAS DRAFTED.—With dawn breaking over the rooftops and most of the delegates nodding wearily in their seats, the convention decided that Hayes would have to allow himself to be drafted for the job and he was.

Christensen was unknown to the Labor group a week ago, and he was but little known to the Forty-eighters when they met here. He was chosen permanent chairman of the Forty-eight convention and rapidly gained popularity. He was one of the earliest advocates of a third party coalition. He is 45 years old and unmarried. He graduated from Cornell university in 1897 and has been practicing law in Salt Lake City in recent years.

ADVISE DROPPING DEBS.—Between the first and second ballots, Otto Branstetter, national secretary of the Socialist party, came before the convention and advised the dropping of Debs' name. The convention thereupon decided to drop all but the leading pair, Christensen and Malone. On the next ballot Christensen received 1525 votes and Malone 1718.

It was nearly 3 a. m. when a presidential candidate was selected. Then almost two hours the convention wrestled and wrangled over a vice president.

FORD'S NAME UP.—A score of names were presented. Included among them were those of Henry Ford and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. Those present who were placed in nomination hastened to withdraw and the friends of those who were not there in person did the honors for them. Finally only three were left: Ford, Mrs. Catt and Hayes. Mrs. Catt with 1663 votes, as against 1211 for Christensen. Eugene V. Debs, the So-Ford was not present. Hayes had pre-

NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS

On account of the approaching hot weather when dogs are particularly subjected to attacks of rabies, it is my duty to issue this notice, effective ninety days from July 1st.

That any person harboring a dog must have same muzzled while running at large. This precaution must be taken at once. Policemen have orders to kill all unmuzzled dogs found running at large.
